

Ayush
30 July 2025

Influence Quotient: 86/100

Overall Evaluation Summary

Qualitative Analysis - Positive

- You effectively started with a hook to grab the audience's attention by sharing a statistic about seniors
- You clearly explained the problem statement and its severity, making it relatable and emotive
- You presented a well-structured solution, The Smiling Souls, and highlighted its key features and benefits, showcasing your ability to think critically and creatively

Qualitative Analysis - Areas of Improvement

- You could improve by providing more specific examples or success stories to demonstrate the impact and effectiveness of The Smiling Souls

- You jumped abruptly from introducing the problem to presenting the solution, a smoother transition would have enhanced the flow of the presentation
- You could have provided more details about your mission and how it aligns with the goals of The Smiling Souls, to give a clearer understanding of your vision
- You mentioned the Indian senior market and its potential, but could have elaborated more on how you plan to tap into this market and what strategies you would employ
- You ended the presentation abruptly, a stronger conclusion summarizing the key points and reiterating the call to action would have left a more lasting impression

Detailed Evaluation Metrics

No.	Items to look out for	5 point Scale	Remarks / Feedback
1.	Did the speaker speak with confidence? • Posture • Smile • Eye Contact • Energetic Start	3	Satisfactory Satisfactory Good Poor
2.	Did the speaker vary their tone, speed, volume?	3	You maintained a good tone, however, your speech could have benefited from a more varied pace, as there were instances where you rushed through certain words and phrases.
3.	Did they use any gestures with their hands or body while speaking?	3	You used some gestures with your hands and body while speaking, but your posture could have been more engaging and energetic throughout the video.
4.	Did they have expressions on their faces?	3	You had some noticeable expressions on your face, particularly when you smiled, which added to your overall presence.
5.	Who are you and what are your skills, expertise, personality traits ?	4	You were able to introduce yourself, highlight your skills, and showcase some of your personality traits, such as compassion and empathy, which is a positive aspect of your presentation.
6.	Why are you the best person to fit this role?	4	You performed well in conveying your passion for the topic and your mission, which makes you a strong fit for this role, as you seem genuinely invested in making a difference.
7.	How are you different from others?	4	You are different from others in that you have a personal connection to the issue you're addressing, which drives your motivation and dedication to finding a solution.
8.	What value do you bring to the role?	4	You bring a unique blend of business, technology, and community-building skills to the role, which could be a significant asset in addressing the needs of your target audience.

9.	Did the speech have a structure of Opening, Body and Conclusion?	4	Your speech had a clear structure, starting with an opening that grabbed attention, a body that provided more information, and a conclusion that summarized your key points and left a lasting impression.
10.	How was the quality of research for the topic? Did the student's speech demonstrate a good depth? Did they cite the sources of research properly?	4	The quality of research for the topic was good, and you demonstrated a decent depth of understanding, although it would have been helpful to cite specific sources or statistics to support your claims.
11.	How creatively did the student present the video?	4	You presented the video in a fairly creative way, using a mix of engaging visuals and personal anecdotes to keep the viewer interested and invested in your story.
12.	How convinced were you with the overall speech on the topic? Was it persuasive? Will you give them the job/opportunity?	3	I was moderately convinced by your overall speech, and while it was persuasive to some extent, there were moments where you could have been more convincing and persuasive to fully win me over and secure the job opportunity.