

Ayush
07 August 2025

Influence Quotient: 102/100

Overall Evaluation Summary

Qualitative Analysis - Positive

- You started the presentation with a strong and eye-catching stat, setting a base for the problem you aim to solve.
- Your explanation of the current issues facing seniors was well detailed and demonstrated your research on the matter.
- You clearly communicated your solution, detailing the features and benefits of your service. This shows your deep understanding about the business model and its target customers.

Qualitative Analysis - Areas of Improvement

- You could try and have a more structured presentation, making sure you transition smoothly between the problem, solution, and the reason for your personal connection to this cause.

- It would be beneficial to provide some empirical evidence or data to reflect the success of your solution.
- Your presentation could have been more engaging with the integration of stories or case studies to emphasize the need for your business.
- Although your explanation about the potential market was well presented, you could include more detailed analysis, for example, potential growth rate, competitors.
- Lastly, while explaining about why one would invest in your venture, try focusing a bit more on the financial aspects like potential return on investment, profit margins, etc.

Detailed Evaluation Metrics

No.	Items to look out for	5 point Scale	Remarks / Feedback
1.	Did the speaker speak with confidence? • Posture • Smile • Eye Contact • Energetic Start	4	Satisfactory Satisfactory Good Poor
2.	Did the speaker vary their tone, speed, volume?	3	You maintained a consistent tone throughout, and your volume was moderate. However, there could be slight improvements in varying your speaking speed for better emphasis.
3.	Did they use any gestures with their hands or body while speaking?	3	Yes, your body language was good; you maintained a decent posture and made sufficient eye contact. However, the energy level at the start of the video could have been higher.
4.	Did they have expressions on their faces?	4	Yes, you were expressive with an appropriate level of smiles throughout the video.
5.	Who are you and what are your skills, expertise, personality traits ?	5	Yes, you did a commendable job introducing yourself, outlining your skills, and revealing your compassionate and empathetic personality traits.
6.	Why are you the best person to fit this role?	5	You stand out because of your strong foundation in business, technology, and community building along with proven empathy and care for seniors.
7.	How are you different from others?	5	You differentiate yourself by blending profit, purpose, and virtues, showcasing your deep connection with the mission and audience.
8.	What value do you bring to the role?	5	You bring value to the role by offering a thoughtful, human-centered tech solution to serve seniors, highlighting your strong business acumen and technological prowess.

9.	Did the speech have a structure of Opening, Body and Conclusion?	4	Yes, the speech was well-structured, starting with the introduction of an issue, presenting a solution, and ending with a persuading call to action.
10.	How was the quality of research for the topic? Did the student's speech demonstrate a good depth? Did they cite the sources of research properly?	5	Absolutely, the speech showed deep understanding of the issues facing seniors and the potential market for your solution. The data points were well-researched and convincingly presented.
11.	How creatively did the student present the video?	4	The video was creatively presented by addressing a pressing social issue with a strategic business solution, making it more engaging and relevant.
12.	How convinced were you with the overall speech on the topic? Was it persuasive? Will you give them the job/opportunity?	4	As an interviewer, I'm impressed by your comprehensive and empathetic approach. Your speech was convincing, and I'd certainly consider investing in your venture. However, for a job opportunity, it would depend on the specific role and how these skills align.