

Hardik
11 August 2025

Influence Quotient: 90/100

Overall Evaluation Summary

Qualitative Analysis - Positive

- You started the introduction well by stating your name and the role you are applying for. This gives a clear understanding to the interviewer
- You demonstrated strong knowledge in the field of AI and provided specifics about your projects on LLM, CNN, PCI shift. This showcases your technical expertise which is a positive attribute
- You comfortably shared about your personal interests, hobbies and even a minor weakness which shows your openness and ability to connect on a personal level.

Qualitative Analysis - Areas of Improvement

- You asked relevant and thoughtful question about the company's upcoming product, but it would be more beneficial to also ask about the role you are applying for, or the team you will be joining

- Although you mentioned your projects, you didn't explain the impact of your work. Going forward, elaborate on the outcomes/results of your project
- While you discussed your weakness honestly, it was unrelated to your professional skills. Employers are more interested in understanding any professional areas of improvement
- You didn't clearly articulate your strengths in relation to the role you're applying for. It's important to discuss how your strengths align with the job requirements
- You could engage the interviewer by asking their perspective or experience in the company. It shows your interest in understanding the workplace culture.

Detailed Evaluation Metrics

No.	Items to look out for	5 point Scale	Remarks / Feedback
1.	Did the speaker speak with confidence? • Posture • Smile • Eye Contact • Energetic Start	4	Satisfactory Satisfactory Good Poor
2.	Did the speaker vary their tone, speed, volume?	3	Your tone was steady throughout, however, there could have been more variance in your voice volume, resulting in a more engaging delivery.
3.	Did they use any gestures with their hands or body while speaking?	3	Your gestures were somewhat reserved; while your posture was acceptable, a more energetic start could have been beneficial.
4.	Did they have expressions on their faces?	4	You maintained good eye contact and managed to smile a few times which added expression to your video resume.
5.	Who are you and what are your skills, expertise, personality traits ?	4	Yes, you successfully introduced yourself, showcased your skills in AI and your work experience in the field and also shared information about your personal interests.
6.	Why are you the best person to fit this role?	4	Your extensive knowledge and practical work on AI technologies places you in a strong position for the Applied AI Scientist role.
7.	How are you different from others?	4	Your particular experience with privacy protection on LLM, in addition to your M.Tech in AI, distinguishes you from other candidates.
8.	What value do you bring to the role?	4	Your knowledge and experience in AI, particularly LLM for its privacy protection and specific projects on CNN, bring considerable value to the Applied AI Scientist role.
9.	Did the speech have a structure of Opening, Body and Conclusion?	4	Yes, the speech had a clear structure with an introduction, body where you highlighted your skills and experience, and conclusion with the question posed to Google.

10.	How was the quality of research for the topic? Did the student's speech demonstrate a good depth? Did they cite the sources of research properly?	4	You showcased good knowledge on your field of study, illustrating that you keep up to date with advancements in AI technologies.
11.	How creatively did the student present the video?	3	The presentation was straightforward and to the point, but could be improved with the inclusion of more creative elements to make it more engaging to viewers.
12.	How convinced were you with the overall speech on the topic? Was it persuasive? Will you give them the job/opportunity?	4	Overall, your speech was convincing as you demonstrated your skills and knowledge well. It was persuasive, and would make a potential employer consider you for the role given the depth of your applied knowledge.