

Siddarth
11 August 2025

Influence Quotient: 90/100

Overall Evaluation Summary

Qualitative Analysis - Positive

- You effectively communicated your educational background and interest in the electronics industry.
- You clearly defined your career goals and showed initiative by revealing your aspirations of becoming a startup consultant and desire to own a consulting firm.
- Your presentation provided a clear picture of your entrepreneurial spirit as evidenced in the undergraduate initiative named BeyondMess you took part in.

Qualitative Analysis - Areas of Improvement

- You can be more specific about the experiences and expertise you aim to gain in order to become a startup consultant.

- Adding examples of your problem-solving or any achievements during your M.Tech and in the 'BeyondMess' initiative could have created more impactful presentation
- Your mentioned teamwork and coordination skills could have been backed by anecdotes or specific instances.
- Elaborating more on how your hobbies of watching TED Talks and reading case studies contribute to your professional growth might have added more depth to your profile
- At the end of your presentation, you could have stated more strongly or directly that you are open to questions to showcase your confidence and readiness.

Detailed Evaluation Metrics

No.	Items to look out for	5 point Scale	Remarks / Feedback
1.	Did the speaker speak with confidence? • Posture • Smile • Eye Contact • Energetic Start	4	Satisfactory Satisfactory Good Needs Improvement
2.	Did the speaker vary their tone, speed, volume?	3	Your tone was well maintained throughout the speech. However, the speed at certain points seemed a bit high and could be moderated for better clarity. Also, some variance in the volume can help improve engagement.
3.	Did they use any gestures with their hands or body while speaking?	3	Yes, based on the video metrics, it appears that you did use some hand and body gestures during your speech. There may be room to improve posture and increase the level of energy at the beginning.
4.	Did they have expressions on their faces?	4	Yes, the video metrics show that you had a good level of eye contact and smiled during your speech which suggests positive expressiveness.
5.	Who are you and what are your skills, expertise, personality traits ?	4	Yes, you were able to effectively introduce yourself, your skills, and highlighted your personality traits including your determination and leadership abilities.
6.	Why are you the best person to fit this role?	4	You are a good fit for this role due to your technical knowledge, initiative in entrepreneurship and leadership skills demonstrated in the speech.
7.	How are you different from others?	4	Your difference lies in your ambition to own a consultancy firm, showcasing a balance of technical and management aspirations.
8.	What value do you bring to the role?	4	You bring a blend of technical acumen, entrepreneurial spirit, and a strong desire to innovate which would add great value to any role.

9.	Did the speech have a structure of Opening, Body and Conclusion?	4	Yes, your speech had a clear structure of opening, body and conclusion with smooth transitions between each part.
10.	How was the quality of research for the topic? Did the student's speech demonstrate a good depth? Did they cite the sources of research properly?	3	The depth of your speech, especially about your entrepreneurial initiative and leadership roles, demonstrated good research and understanding of your topic. However, citation of sources was not explicitly mentioned.
11.	How creatively did the student present the video?	4	You presented creatively by engaging with viewers directly, inviting feedback, and providing a glimpse into your hobbies and personal interests.
12.	How convinced were you with the overall speech on the topic? Was it persuasive? Will you give them the job/opportunity?	4	Your speech was persuasive with strong points about your abilities and aspirations. The decision to provide an opportunity would depend on the job specifics but from this speech, you exhibit potential for various roles, especially in startups and consultancy.